

Suicided on Saturday in a Ninth Street Stable

James Farget, an Englishman, Found Dead From Self Inflicted Wounds

On Saturday afternoon James Farget committed suicide in a stable on Ninth street by shooting himself through the heart with a double barreled shotgun.

The unfortunate event occurred in a stable belonging to Mr. Hughes about four o'clock, and from evidences discovered, the deed was a most deliberate one. He was found sitting in a corner of the stable with the muzzle of the gun pointing towards his side, with the "fore-end" in his hand which he had evidently received to reach the trigger and discharge the contents of the gun.

About 9 a.m. Saturday, Farget came to Mrs. Hughes' house and said he was going to get some things out of his boxes, which he kept in the stable. He came again in the afternoon about 3 p.m. to the back door and spoke to Mrs. Hughes. He showed no unusual signs of nervousness although Mrs. Hughes says he was in the habit of being melancholy, and had a notion some one was going to kill him. During his conversation with Mrs. Hughes, he said, "I am going to leave that house. They are not going to poison me."

Mrs. Hughes tried to turn the conversation from himself when Farget said, "My head feels like a hot iron."

After that he went into the stable and in about ten minutes the shot was heard. Mr. Brown, who keeps a horse in the same stable, came along and found Farget with the smoking gun in his hand.

D.D. Smith was sent for and found Farget dead. Soon after Dr. Braithwaite and Chief Evans arrived. The body was removed about five o'clock to the coroner's office and will be buried today.

Farget came to the city a year ago last May with two children from Brazil, Indiana, and was a miner. He went on to homestead last September where he remained until February of this year, and then went home to England, where he has a brother, living at Darlington. He returned from England last July, and has since been boarding at the Ritz Hotel. He was steady and sober in his habits, and a good workman. He had $1200 in the Bank of Montreal, and had $300 in his pocket when he killed himself.

Narrow Escape

Axel Breaks on Manufacturers Train
While Pulling Into Lloydminster
Last Night

The manufacturers had a narrow escape from a bad accident at Lloydminster last night. Just as the excursion train arrived there at 6 o'clock in the evening and was about to pull into the siding to let the regular express go by, an axle on one of the forward sleepers broke and threw the trucks off the rails. The car was soon jacked up, cut out, run into a siding, and another one substituted. As the train was going very slow when the break occurred no damage resulted, but had the axle broken ten minutes earlier, there would probably have been another tragic chapter added to the long series of train wreck horrors.

Manufacturers Gone

Were Entertained Saturday Afternoon By Drive About the District

The entertainment to the Canadian Manufacturers Association is today a matter of history and the members of that influential body are spending a day of their time here, but the citizens of Edmonton should be able to rest serene in the assurance that the visitors at least went away with good impressions of the capital of Alberta.

One of the most delightful features of the Saturday reception was the fact that there was no formality. Before the members of the reception committee had arrived in the city with their wagons, or automobiles, of manufacturers, they were all old friends and they spent the day driving them about and introducing them to whoever might be in a conversational frame.

Although it was Saturday afternoon and the week's business was over, the big wholesale houses were kept open for the benefit of the manufacturers, and many of them spent several hours going through the warehouses and finding out for themselves the manufactured articles that were most in demand. The fur rooms of Revillon Bros., the Hudson's Bay and McDougall & Co., attracted the most attention and a beautiful display of black and silver furs in Revillon's window kept a constant and ever-changing crowd in front of the retail store all afternoon.

A couple of parties went down to Clover Bar to see the coal mines and three or four other parties spent the day at the flour mills, investigating that part of Edmonton's industries. By 5.30 the driving parties had nearly all returned, and the special train having been hauled across from Strathcona, they reported to the dining cars at the depot for dinner, after which the conversation and adieu.

They have also given their late employees notice to vacate their houses at Coal Creek.

Many Lives Lost

Many Vessels Wrecked and Much Property Destroyed in the Southern Storm

(Bulletin Special.)

New Orleans, Oct. 1.—Six persons drowned, eight large sailing vessels wrecked, about thirty smaller vessels sunk or ashore and property damage of more than a million was the result of the hurricane in Mississippi. The full extent of the disaster there became known today when Cat and Horn Islands were heard from. These have been completely submerged. The worst catastrophe was at Horn Island where the light keeper, Johnson and his wife and daughter were swept into the gulf with their light-house and drowned.

Birmingham, Oct. 1.—Mobile is cut off from the outside world. A despatch just received here by mail which left Mobile at 8.30 a.m. Saturday says that the city will suffer a loss of $5,000,000.

In damage to buildings, steamboats, shipping, railroads and commercial houses. The famous Shell road is gone and probably will not be rebuilt. Fifty nine persons are known to have lost their lives at points near the city, the loss being heaviest at Codon.

Meridian, Miss., Oct. 1.—Delayed mail from Hattiesburg brings advices that afternoon of dreadful havoc wrought in that section and in South Mississippi by the storm. It is estimated that fifty per cent of the yellow pine timber has been destroyed and it is feared that many lives have been lost in the woods. All turpentine orchards are ruined and the loss is estimated at several millions of dollars. In Hattiesburg alone the loss is estimated at $1,000,000. Scranton and other towns are reported in a deplorable state, but no estimate is given of the damage, nor mention made of the fatalities. The entire west shore below Mobile is reported completely devastated. Twenty per cent of the population is homeless. Thirty-five bodies have been recovered and thirty more are known to have perished, many of whom were negroes. The surviving negroes are terror stricken and helpless. Information given out by the Mobile and Ohio officers just from Mobile estimate the number of dead near Mobile at 75. It is said that not one of the soldiers escaped from Fort Morgan. Biloxie, Miss., is also reported destroyed.

To Build Wire Works

Munroe Bros. Who Are Operating
In Nova Scotia and Manitoba
Have an Eye on Edmonton

(Bulletin Special.)

Among the visitors with the manufacturers, Saturday were two who were here for more than a mere pleasure trip. These were A. R. Munroe, of New Glasgow, and James Munroe, of Winnipeg.

These two gentlemen are proprietors and managers of the Munroe wire works, of New Glasgow, and Winnipeg. They have a large works in the eastern town and have just completed a new plant in Winnipeg. Their business is to make wire and iron fences, wire bed springs and other goods for which their principal market is in the west. Mr. A. R. Munroe stated Saturday that while they were already covering a large part of Canada with their goods they will find it necessary to establish a third plant in the west for the manufacture of their goods and that Edmonton is the distributing point which appeals to them as a proper location.

Mr. Munroe stated that his company was ready to establish a plant here at almost any time, but that they would ask Edmonton people to subscribe for a certain amount of the stock before going extensively into the business in this city. Mr. Munroe has a proposition to lay before the board of trade, of which more will be heard later.

Savignac Captured

Flashed Guns on the Detectives but was Gathered In

(Bulletin Special.)
Montreal, Oct. 1.—Dr. J. Savignac wanted for the attempted murder of his wife and mother-in-law at Ottawa was arrested by Detective Dick and Ryan at Beauharnois Saturday night in a rather dramatic manner. The detectives were following him and when they were within a yard he whirled and flashed two revolvers. The three men before a struggle began which terminated in the prisoner being handcuffed. He will be taken to Ottawa to stand his trial.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Dr. Savignac appeared before Mr. McNab, J.P., and was remanded without leaving any address and before his wife and mother-in-law will be able to appear against him. It is said that his wife does not want to appear. She says that he will be punished in the other world. Under the law she is a compulsory witness.

COSTLY DIS-APPEARANCE

E. H. Groos of the Alexandra Nurseries no Longer a Resident of These Parts

E. H. Groos, proprietor of the Alexandra Nurseries was suddenly disappeared without leaving any address and many anxious friends in Edmonton and Strathcona are wondering where he could be found.

Are indications are that several wives, some of them of considerable wealth, have been worked on by business men and banks of the two towns. Groos has been in business at Clover Bar for some time. He is married and a wife and family live at the nursery. He came here originally from England and it is now rumored that he left the Old Country under a cloud. His disappearance has been well regarded. Last week, however, little irregularities commenced to show up in connection with his business and after a careful investigation his creditors decided that there was no room to doubt his deliberate intention to swindle.

Mr. Shapcott of Mitchell & Shapcott, is one of the biggest losers by the machinations of Groos. Mr. Shapcott purchased a house from Groos on Ninth street south of Jasper, but failed to search the title. He paid $1,000 cash and afterwards gave two accommodation notes presumably as collateral to the agreement of sale. Mr. Shapcott finds that these were given against the property to almost its full value and that the accommodation notes were cashed to one party and to another party and that he will have to pay both. Although Mr. Shapcott states that he is out about $2,500 on the deal.

Mr. Greenway of the Edmonton Floral Co., is another loser by Groos's disappearance, having been in his employ and having failed to get his wages.

There is also another report of a forgery of an endorsement of Donald Ross's, cashed at one of the downtown banks, to the extent of $2,200, but both Mr. Ross and the bank officials refuse to give out any statement.

FATTENING STATIONS.

Mr. A. W. Foley, who is in charge of the co-operative poultry fattening stations for the department of agriculture, returned home on Saturday morning. Operations have commenced at the following places: Westsiding, under charge of H. J. Donnelly; Red Deer, under L. LeBlanc; Innisfail, under L. M. McLean; Olds, under J. A. Dangerfield; Lacombe, J. F. Mill.

About 1300 chickens are gathered at the various stations and everything is progressing smoothly. The only difficulty is for many people want to send their poultry.

The farmers have already benefited by this move on the part of the Government and prices have already gone up. Local dealers are competing with the Government and prices have risen three to five cents per pound. Dealers' interest farmers on their way to the fattening stations and try to buy at the advanced prices.

Mr. Foley is now on the look out for a staff of pickers to get the birds ready for market. One Calgary firm has offered to purchase five car loads of the product of the fattening stations.

Land Office Returns

Show Large Increase of Business Over September of Last Year

Record of the Dominion land office for the month of September, with a comparison with the same month last year:

Letters sent	2018	1476

Homestead entries	342	245

CORRECTED REPORT.

The department of agriculture has published a supplement to the crop report giving the correct returns for the Lethbridge district. The report explains how the mistake was made and rectifies as far as possible the error that was made. The report in part is as follows:

It is stated that the figures given in Crop Bulletin No. 3 for District No. 3—Lethbridge, Raymond and Stirling districts—do not represent the actual acreage under crop, the prospective yield, and this supplement is therefore issued to remove any false impressions which may have been created.

It is not in the interests of the department to under or over estimate the probable yields in any district, and from the reports received from local crop correspondents the departmental estimate was perfectly justified; the results being tabulated in exactly the same manner as those for every other district. The returns this year were all made on a per centage basis, and compared with the actual yields obtained from the threshing machine operators of 1905 for the whole district. It will thus be readily seen that in districts where only a small area was under cultivation last year, it was probably before the acreage increase, and before the total yield, will be greatly underestimated. One of our crop correspondents pointed out for this district did not make any returns of their returns were not received in time to be tabulated. The work being entirely new to the majority of them, so they did not report as accurately as they will probably do when further experience is gained, as the reported percentage of "the conditions of crops compared with those of last year at the same date" was not so high as circumstances apparently called for.

The Lethbridge Board of Trade appointed a committee to ascertain the probable yield and acreage, and the Honourable the Minister of Agriculture having since been pleased to authorize the publication of the following extract from the report prepared by that Committee:

On behalf of the committee appointed by the Board of Trade to procure information as to the proper crop conditions in this district, we beg to report that we have gathered the following reliable information:

	Probable crop	Acres	in bushels
Wheat, spring	14,000	364,000
Wheat, winter	5,000	110,000
Oats	12,000	480,000
Barley	1,000	20,000
Flax	400	5,600

We believe these figures to be below the actual yield.

For the committee:

T. M. EVANS,
T. E. PATTERSON,
F. H. BARNES.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Mr. Chisholm, of Alberta College, will begin his sight singing classes Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the assembly hall of the college.

As indicating the enormous expansion in the city's electrical business, it is interesting to note that the cash receipts for light and power supplied by the city plant for the month of August totalled $5,023.72, as against $2,965 for the month of August last year. No other city in Canada is showing the same percentage of increase.

There are 170 students enrolled at Alberta College in all departments. About 25 are preparing for junior matriculation, and as many more for P. II. Three are taking first year arts, and 2 in second year arts. The following students arrived last week: Hugh Dixon, Maple Creek; Thomas Wilson, Belmont; Edna Markle, Gleichen; A. J. Law, Camrose; H. A. Hadden, Stoney Plain; Miss Shilletto, Lacombe; Wesley Steinhauer, Fisher River, Man.; Peter Tompkins, Saddle Lake; W. Wynan, Pembina; Miss M. On the playing of the first trials of the semi-finals they were winners over the Capitals and Cornwall. In the third trial here Saturday between the Tecumsehs and the Capitals, the Tecumsehs won by 6 to 1 and the Capitals have three goals to overcome in the next match of the extra series of the semi-finals. $3,000,000 OVERDRAFT.
Winnipeg, Sept. 30. - Much excitement has developed in civic circles because of a secret session of the city council held Saturday afternoon it was revealed that Winnipeg is within $3,000,000 of the limit of its borrowing power, the overdraft being $3,000,000. No offers were made in New York for a big block of city bonds offered for sale, though it is said that these could be privately disposed of there. A committee was appointed to confer with John Aird of the Bank of Commerce in an effort to arrive at some arrangement whereby the city can finance.

BID OATS TO 38.
Winnipeg, Sept. 30. - Considerable excitement occurred around the grain exchange after the close of Saturday markets when active bidding by Bruce McBean, broker, for a number of local traders sent the price of September oats up from 33, the last price before the market closed, to 38 cents without any offers being made. The squeeze is attributed to the inability of those who have oats for delivery in September to get their oats into the terminal elevators where it must be in store before the month, otherwise delivery on contracts cannot legally be made. The Canadian Elevator company is believed to have bought oats and the shortage is 30,000 bushels.

THE FERNIE STRIKE.
Ferne, B.C., Sept. 30. - Strike of miners in the Crow's Nest Coal Co., here, and at Mitchell has reached a stage where serious results are feared. 800 men on strike are eagerly awaiting the arrival of President Mitchell, Vice-President Lewis and Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers, when an effort will be made to straighten out the difficulty between the company and the men. That the company proposes to beat out the men is indicated by the notice given to the consumers that the company will no longer take the responsibility of furnishing electric light as the supply of coal necessary for producing, has been exhausted. The union voted unanimously Saturday night to go on strike and the mines are now practically closed. The company has notified the striking miners at Coal Creek to vacate houses owned by them. On this account the union miners who had continued work to keep the fires and pumps going, quit work.

CONCILIATION COMMITTEE FORMED.
Calgary, Sept. 28. - The building trades council held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 230. They decided that at the trades would stand by their former resolution to support the carpenters, which means that no members of any union will work on what they consider an unfair job. An unfair job is one on which non-union labor is employed. The building trades council also formed a conciliation committee to approach both parties in the labor struggle now on, with a view of making an amicable settlement. A closed meeting was held last evening in the Barber building by the plumbers, gasfitters, steamfitters and steamfitters' helpers, but the nature of the business transacted could not be learned. Night before last Mayor Emerson wired to Rudolph Lemieux, minister of labor at Ottawa, stating the facts regarding the situation between the carpenters and the bosses and asking him to send the best men available to Calgary to arbitrate the question. This afternoon the following telegram was received: "Telegram received: have wired both parties to the dispute asking proper department's intervention acceptable: writing. ## RIVALS

The campaign of Mr. W. R. Hearst for governor of New York appears likely to be strenuous if one may judge from the preliminary bouts being now indulged in by the press. The following denunciation is taken not from one of the excitable New York dailies but from so staid and responsible a publication as the North American Review:—

"As a journalist though keen, enterprising and resourceful, he is a burning disgrace to the craft; as a politician though shrewd and at times even sagacious, he is no more scrupulous than the lowest of those whom he has stigmatized as criminals; as a partisan, though earnest and efficient in appealing to the masses, he is a traitor; as an office-holder, he is pre-eminent in shameful neglect of his duties; as an agitator, his delight consists in revelling in the incitement of evil passions; as a dual personality though possessed of many engaging qualities, he is so utterly devoid of character, so unsteady in even his own recklessness, so faithless to his professed ideals, so scornfully disregardful of moral responsibility, so addicted to detestable practices in efforts to gratify his ambitions, so sinfully persistent in stirring the cauldron of discontent, envy and hatred as to be a living and glaring reproach to American civilization."

Judging from this Mr. Hearst's newspapers should be quite as unprincipled and almost as brutally insulting as the Calgary Herald.

NATIONALISM

The Toronto News suggests that the "nationalism" and "patriotism" of the Conservative party is not to be questioned. There is no need to question it. The motive may be granted but the manner of its expression condemned. Liberals may concede to their opponents the best of intention and still properly claim that those opponents propose a sadly mistaken plan for carrying out that intention. The patriotism and nationalism of the Conservative party may be quite sincere and still their policy be neither national in its scope or patriotic in its results.

However national or patriotic may have been its intention the Conservative government was defeated in 1896 because the policy it sought to enforce was regarded as destructive of "nationalism" and hence unpatriotic in tendency and results. And among those who have condemned that policy the News has not been missing.

The Conservative party stands today for a high tariff—a tariff framed for the express purpose of excluding foreign made goods and hence a tariff on the principle of "the higher, the better." Who has asked for such a tariff? A clear majority of the Canadian people? Have the varied interests of the country joined in requesting it in any manner which could be construed as giving it the aspect of a "national" demand? The request emanated not from the community at large but from a class and that class which must always be one of the smallest numerically in the community. Against this demand are unquestionably arrayed the overwhelming majority of those belonging to what must always be the most populous class in Canada and allied with these are the majority of the other classes whose interests are not directly dependent on manufacturing. How can a demand emanating from the few be construed as the "national" course even against the repeated decisions of the electorate at large? The intention may be national but the policy cannot be.

The Conservative party stands today in unalterable hostility to the Grand Trunk Pacific project, the most essentially "national" undertaking in the history of Canada and neither in the House nor out of it has the leader of that party offered the people of Canada a bona fide alternative. Granting Mr. Borden national and patriotic motives is it a policy either conspicuously "national" or "patriotic" to condemn the construction of the only transcontinental railway on Canadian soil? A railway which will provide Canada with another artery for the commerce of the world while doubling the opportunity in Canada for development in every branch of industrial, commercial, and professional life? And to condemn such undertaking without offering an alternative reasonably likely to accomplish similar results?

The sentiment of patriotism our Opposition friends may have and national unity and development may be their ideal but they have a singularly unhappy manner of coining their sentiments and ideals into proposals.

LESSONS FROM THE BOOK OF JONAH

Rev. W. L. Clay, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Victoria, and convenor of the Home Mission committee of the of the Synod of British Columbia, occupied the pulpit in First Presbyterian church last night and was greeted by a large audience.

Mr. Clay gave an exposition of the book of Jonah, showing that the God of Jonah was the God of the New Testament, and that Jonah's message to Nineveh was the message of the Gospel to mankind. It was a book of extraordinary pathos, beauty and power. This wonderful book written long before Isaiah teaches the truth of God's care for the whole world, that God's mercy is so wonderful it regards no sin as unpardonable, nor regards any barrier of breed or birth as separating those who are the objects of mercy. The speaker alluded to the fact that often men in our own day are called upon to play the part of Jonah in protesting against the evil and iniquity of their fellow citizens, and many are like Jonah, more careful of their reputation than the best of duty.

The second great lesson taught by this book is duty and office of repentance, its need, method and results. Every promise of God is conditioned, and in terms of the nature he has endowed us with. Hence he honors us in giving us our will in determining whether we shall be the recipients of his judgment or his mercy. Penitence is voluntary and comes only by the pressure of truth.

Here the speaker referred to the fact that penitence might be national as well as individual, and that it was the civic and Christian duty of every citizen to do nothing that would call for repentance on the part of the nation, for the only cause of penitence is sin. He said Canada's past was fair and clean, but that today is the critical period, and the responsibility on every free citizen is great.

"No nation or individual," said the speaker, "can ignore God, although some men here seem to think the voice of God has not yet crossed the Red river."

Foster Backed Down

And Produced the Book. Fowler
"Started" West After Being
Subpoenaed

Further details of the Pope-Fowler land transaction were given by Mr. Stevenson, who stated that Messrs. Foster, McGillivray, Wilson and Boyd, being a majority of the board of the Union Trust Co., and being also directors of the Great West Land Co., had found themselves in an improper position, that they could not protect the Union Trust Co. unless at the expense of their own personal interests as members of the land company.

Mr. Stevenson also gave interesting evidence in relation to the probable outcome of the Northwest Lands speculation on which there will probably be a profit of $400,000. The transaction by which the Kamloops Lumber Co. was organized, the Union Trust Co. advancing all the moneys required to purchase properties, and assuming 51 per cent of the responsibility, were explained. George McCormick, M.P., and Wm. Irwin, his partner and George W. Fowler, M.P., agreed to assume 49 per cent of the liability, giving as security their stock in the company. The Shields-Ryan mill and limits at Kamloops were acquired for $225,000, the Shuswap mill and limits were purchased for $40,000 and the Enderby mill and limits were acquired for $175,000. All these negotiations were conducted by Mr. Fowler as agent, acting on behalf of the Union Trust Co. The last named property was purchased under pressure. Mr. Irwin having threatened to withdraw and take it himself if the deal was not carried through. Subsequently it developed that McCormick and Irwin were shareholders in the Okanagan Lumber Co., from which the property was purchased. Ultimately Mr. Irwin refused to sign a joint note for 49 per cent and withdrew the Union Trust Co. finding itself compelled to increase its interest to 63 per cent.

FOWLER "WENT WEST"
When the commission opened this morning, Geo. F. Shepley, who is conducting the investigations for the government made a public announcement for the benefit of the witnesses who have received subpoenas. He informed the commissioners that Geo. W. Fowler, M.P. for King's, N.B., and A. A. Lefurgey, M.P. for Prince, P.E.I., both of whom were subpoenaed and should have been present, were not on hand although the time had arrived at which they should have been. The gentleman representing Mr. Lefurgey had called to see him this morning and asked when his client would be wanted. With regard to Mr. Fowler, who had been summoned to appear at an earlier stage, that gentleman appeared at the time and Mr. Shepley said that he had since gone west, sending a letter to the commission stating that he will be back after a while, or in a short time. He desired to state publicly for the benefit of all witnesses who had received subpoenas, that this sort of thing was not to be tolerated and that they must obey the subpoenas and attend the commission in accordance therewith, or suffer the results of disobedience.

A COMPREHENSIVE RESOLUTION
Speaking of borrowing from the Trust Co. Mr. Stevenson said: "The minutes showed that a resolution was passed by the directors of the Union Trust Co., electing to take stock in the Great West Land Co., not only in respect to the advances already made but for all the advances made in future. On Feb. 28, 1905, Messrs. Foster, McGillivray and Wilson, three members of the executive of the Union Trust Co., constituted a meeting of directors of the Great West Land Co. at which the annual report to the shareholders was adopted. These three gentlemen were also the only persons recorded as being present at a meeting of the shareholders which adopted the report. The report showed on one side capital stock of $497,020 and a cash balance provided by the Union Trust Co. $7,558. On the other side was $100,500 in the Ontario Farm and Town Sites Syndicate Co., the stock comprising 395,000 which these gentlemen received as their share of the 50 cent per acre increase, $5,000 which Messrs. Pope and Fowler received, and $500 that went to the old shareholders; $273,916.50 to the C.P.R. on account of the purchase of land, and $119,419.13 for which $59,119.16 was in cash to Pope and Fowler. The other expenditures for interests on advances, law costs, salaries, etc., balanced the account at $497,020 capital stock on the other side $497,020.58.

Mr. Shepley called attention to the fact that $100,500 of stock among the disbursements was included in the account. In the statement of the assets, 202,577 acres of land appeared. The cash assets included the Syndicate stock $100,500; C. P. R. payments, $709,021; paid to Pope and Fowler in cash, are added certain other items making $165,453.12 and $4,640 and stock $63,329 making a total of $512,922.94.33 to which a total value of assets of $1,066,748.32. The liabilities were the balance due on the land $569,624; bank advance $73.58, and capital stock of $4,970.20. The report of the directors estimated the average value of 202,577 acres at $8.50 per acre, the price at which it was held varying from $4 to $11.

SAME THREE AGAIN
The same three gentlemen according to the minutes, constituted a meeting of the directors at which the proposition for the lease on 3,200 acres of lands was dealt with. Mr. Stevenson said he never heard of the matter until now. After the interview in 1905 with Dr. Oronhyatekha and Col. McGillivray, he assumed the responsibility of looking after the matter of the investments and in accordance with the policy that had been then decided upon, he urged the advisability of the Union Trust Co., accepting the surety of their investment instead of stock in the Great West Land Co. He discussed the matter with Messrs. Foster, McGillivray and other members of the Trust Co., directors and expressed a desire that the I.O.F. should be put in a position of having the security for their money rather than that of the shareholders in the land company.

CONCERNED ABOUT THE PRINCIPAL

It was not intended at the time, as far as he was concerned, that in the change the Union Trust Co. should surrender the bonus stock received, although he did not attach much importance to it. He had become concerned about the principal, the security of which was his first consideration.

While there might have been a profit of $660,000 out of the land deal, he thought it best to make the principal sure as the order through the Union Trust Co., and Dr. Oronhyatekha held 337 1-2 shares in the land company, and would get a share of the profit anyway.

The minutes of the meeting of the directors of Nov. 13, set forth that he had moved a resolution to take the security for loan and surrender the stock.

The meeting was, Mr. Stevenson said, a hurried one, and, though he moved to take a first claim, he had no thought of surrendering the stock, and did not so move. He, however, acquiesced anyone of intentionally making incorrect minutes. There was to his mind, no reason, considering the manner in which it was acquired and the position of the investment at that time did not show any reason for surrendering it. Mr. Foster would give his collection of what transpired at that meeting, and he had great confidence in Foster's recollection.

Notwithstanding the large amount of wheat raised in Italy ( 178,000,000 bu. in 1904) the home consumption is far in advance of the home production, and while the increase in population is steadily increasing every year. There is an import duty on wheat of forty cents per bushel, despite the fact that Italy is obliged to import somewhere in the neighborhood of 90,000,000 bushels a year. The agricultural imports of 1904 were 806,056 metric tons (2,200 lbs); and this year it will take 1,000,000 tons of wheat to supply bread to the consumers in Italy. This constitutes a heavy tax upon the community, because of course the native wheat grower adds the 40 cents by which he is protected, to the price of his wheat. The difference between the prices of native and imported wheat is very slight, and is fully explained by the superior quality of the foreign article. The average price for the Italian wheat for the past six months has been 25.75 francs per hundred kilos, about $1.40

The writer, during his visit to Milan, last month, had a long and interesting conversation with respect to the possible openings in Italy of a market for Canadian wheat, with Mr. Paolo Lorenzetti, the chief member of the grain commission firm of Lorenzetti Bros., whose office is at No. 2 Piazza Stessi, Simpliciano, Milan. This firm does a large brokerage business, and handles all kinds of imported and native grains. Mr. Lorenzetti says that Russia is in danger of losing her commanding position in the markets of Italy as a supplier of wheat. This is owing in part to the present agrarian difficulties in that country which have seriously affected the regularity of shipments. Italian grain merchants who have orders to fill, can no longer count upon quantities being shipped and completed at Odessa, and they are therefore constrained to look for more reliable sources of supply. Argentina has taken advantage of the opportunity to push its wares, and is cutting prices in order to establish a sure foothold in Italy. There are direct lines of steamers plying between Genoa and Buenos Ayres which supply a fortnightly service and this makes shipments regular and easy.

relations of this character between the two countries. But now that Canada is becoming a wheat exporter on a large scale, and is therefore obliged to seek additional markets, it is possible that some attempt will be made to bring the seller in Canada, and the purchaser in Italy into closer relations by providing prompter and better channels for communication. If this is done and further encouragement is offered by a special trade arrangement there should be a brisk development in this trade.

Mannville, Alta., Sept. 28.—A visitor to Mannville is at once struck with the good appearance of the farm land surrounding the town and the evidences of progress in the town itself. In a great many of the places in this part of the country you have to get away some distance before you find the best lands and most thickly settled parts but Mannville is under cultivation from the borders to the horizon, giving it the appearance of greater development. It is as new as the newest but developing rapidly. Al-

It is gratifying to learn that the typhoid epidemic is decreasing and medical men are of the opinion that the large number of cases this season are very much to blame for the scourge.

Five Gallicians were brought before Magistrate J. W. Tipton the other day charged with disorderly conduct early on Tuesday morning. After hearing evidence, two of the culprits were fined $2.00 and the other three had to contribute $1.00 and costs to the town's exchequer.

Rev. Dr. Daly will deliver the anniversary sermon in the Methodist church on Oct. 1th.

On the evening of October 8th, the ladies of the congregation of the Methodist church will serve the annual tea in the Orange Hall and this will be followed by a program and addresses.

Yesterday evening Mr. Elmo Essary returned from a trip to the coast.

Mr. G. M. Groat left yesterday for Vegreville to attend the annual fair there.

Mr. F. Kelly, of Winnipeg, adjutant of the Home Insurance Co., has completed the work of estimating the stock of the Paria Liquor Store, which amounts to $325. The cause of the fire on Tuesday is still a mystery.

Yesterday was observed among the Gallician community as a Russian holiday.

RECEPTION IN THE RINK.

The reception given to the visiting manufacturers on Saturday evening in the Thistle Rink was in every way a most successful civic function which did credit and honor to the genuine public spirit of the citizens and responsiveness of true Canadian fellowship upon the visitors. Everything went off without a hitch, and with the utmost harmony. The man from Montreal or Toronto, who is wont to think only in terms of tariffs, fat profits and low rates to the West cast all aside, and commingled in true Canadian fellowship with the man from Edmonton, who for three hours at least didn't care how property was selling in Westmount or Bellevue, or where the Parliament Buildings ought to be situated. If some of these manufacturers do not accept Mayor May's invitation to come and live with us, it is not because Edmonton was niggardly in her hospitality, or the visitors were not delighted with the warmth of their reception. There is an old verse in Robert Burns which magnifies the goodness of a highland welcome, but if the Bard of Manchinie had ever travelled in the West he would have written in a still higher strain of human hospitality.

The proceedings were enlivened by Irving's orchestra, whose splendid music delighted everyone and showed that Edmonton is not behind cities of greater age and wealth in the matter of having produced a music loving constituency that supports and demands such high class music as the orchestra furnished on Saturday evening. Overtures, waltzes, selections and marches from the greatest composers followed in rapid succession. At the close of the program the mayor went on the platform and warmly congratulated Mr. Irving for the excellent music his orchestra had rendered.

Very few of the citizens failed to accept the invitation to be present. Mayor May and Mrs. May received the guests with a hearty handshake and an appropriate word for each one. The walls of the rink were tastefully decorated with bunting of red, white and blue, and flags. The floor was divided into two main parts by an arch of flags across the entire rink under which the platform for the orchestra was placed which was decorated with bunting of spruce and autumn leaves. The reception division was furnished with rugs, divans and chairs of oak, and wicker work. A number of immense palms with four thickly-set rows of incandescent lamps across the entire room gave the place the air and the air of an enchanted palace. At the rear of the rink was the dancing space separated from the surrounding aisle by a rope of hunting. Below the stage and on each side were set the refreshment tables which never seemed to diminish their store of good things while Caterer Jack Morton had provided.

After the visitors had arrived and had broken the ice in getting acquainted with the good people of our city, Mayor May welcomed them in a few well chosen words and called upon Mr. William Shortt to welcome the Manufacturers on behalf of the board of Trade. Mr. Shortt did not know why he should welcome them. They were not strangers. This country was theirs and ours as a common heritage, and the visitors were free to know the length and breadth of it. They could do the west no greater benefit than to tell the people of the east what they had actually seen. Men were needed and men of the right kind. If they could send such men the future of the city would be bright.

President Cockshutt said that in all their trip they had not visited so beautiful a city. He thought Edmonton was laying the foundation sure and strong and congratulated them upon their provision for the future. He thought the people of the east were a slow crowd when it was known there was coal mines, timber, iron and other material resources and yet the young men of the east remained at home. If he were a young man and unattached he would come and live here for a country with such unlimited resources is bound to become great. If your citizens are short of cash, they have their cattle and if that fails they can wash the gravels of the Saskatchewan. The 31 million pounds of American produce that came into Canada last year should be produced here, and the day is coming very soon when it will be produced here. President Cockshutt concluded with moving a vote of thanks to the citizens of Edmonton for the kind welcome.

Rt. J. Young of the Canadian Rubber Co., Montreal, and who by the way carries in his vest pocket the medal for oratory awarded by the Literary Society of University College, made a smooth speech, the dominant note of which was Canada for the Canadians. "No man is truly Canadian until he has seen this western country," said Mr. Young. It was three years since members of the association were in this city, and they were surprised at the changes and evidences of progress on every side. He had been told the farmers of the west had not been in sympathy with the manufacturers. He thought the magnificent and kindly reception given to them everywhere would be a quietus to such misapprehensions. The manufacturers are in sympathy with the towns and cities of the west in their call for factories. It is well for the farmer to remember his best market is the home market. The United States sent out 71 per cent. of her produce. He quoted Mr. Dooley in his advice to keep the boys at home to develop home industries and also Pauline Johnson in the words "the goods that are made in Canada are the goods that our sons demand."

Mr. Young concluded by seconding the motion of President Cockshutt. The mayor also called upon Mr. Grigg, who is at present in Canada on behalf of the British government. He said his main object was to study Canada and was certain that the unlimited resources and optimism of Canada could only end in greatness. No one could adequately forecast the coming greatness of this young nation. He had come to Canada to listen, learn and report to the government in London. The Home government had followed the example of the Canadian government in sending men to study conditions at first hand, who would act as the eyes of the Home government. He thanked the citizens for the honor of speaking to them and said that he had heard nothing but sympathy, kindness and support.

After the speeches the orchestra began to play and an informal dance was indulged in by the younger people which was eagerly watched by the older ones, and especially by those who have not learned the mysteries of the terpsichorean art.

HORSE HILLS

Threshing operations have begun in earnest in this community. A short time ago the threshers of the district established a scale of advanced prices. The farmers protested against any increase in threshing rates because wages are high and the price of grain is low. The farmers refused to pay the increased rate and stacked their grain until the threshers were idle. Now the threshers are working at the old level again.

The sample is excellent and they yield is ahead of last year.

Mr. Alex Mc-Lay was in Edmonton over the week end. Mr. Mc-Lay has been offered a good figure for his farm, and thinks he will accept it and move to Edmonton. He has lived in this vicinity for over eighteen years and is able to retire with a comfortable fortune. He owns considerable property in Edmonton, and has some rich coal lands he intends to develop next year.

Mr. S. R. Hooper of P.E.I. has been engaged to teach the cornation school. Numerous land seekers from the United States have lately passed through the district and are emphatic in their praise of the agricultural advantages. The delightful seasons and excellent crops have astonished them, and they state that emigration from the United States to Northern Alberta will be doubled next year.

Those who are engaged in threshing in this district are Messrs. John Harold, Archy McDiarmid, The Sturgeon Threshing Co., and John Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy has the largest outfit in the community, and it is the general opinion that there is nothing small about John.

There is a brisk demand growing for coal lands, probably stimulated by the recent flurry at Belmont. This latter place has become a village within the last few days, mainly a village of tents. A siding was put in from the C.N.R. main line and a shaft 20x12 feet has been sunk.

None of the local police were in sight during the whole proceedings, and this fact caused much unfavorable comment. Perhaps they were rounding up stray dogs or enforcing the sign by-law; who can tell?

Pembina, Sept. 22.—The oats are a very fine crop all over the district, being in many cases so heavy it had to be cut with the reaper. The average yield will be from seventy to ninety bushels per acre.

The garden stuff is extremely heavy which speaks volumes for the country's welfare.

The country from here north is settling up with leaps and bounds, but there is still room to the north. This seems to be the favorite district for settling this year, and the settlers are the right kind.

Belders post office is situated on the Pembina River on the old Klondike crossing.
